Coulee Dam Casino has New Admin Building and Parking Lot

(Coulee Dam, Wash. November 17, 2008) – The casino staff recently moved into their new administration building which is located across the street from the casino at 516 Birch Street. Colville Tribal Service Corporation (CTSC) completed the remodeling and construction work.

“It’s nice being able to work in a new facility with real office space,” said Gina Aldrich, manager of the Coulee Dam Casino. “We couldn’t wait to move out of the old building.”

The new administration building houses seven offices, a conference room, kitchen area, and has more storage space than the previous location.

“Once the casino staff relocated to the new building we demolished the old building at the corner of Birch Street and Roosevelt Way to construct a 45-stall parking lot,” said Tom Pifer, project manager for CTSC.

“Our customers will be able to park closer to the casino,” said Aldrich. “The additional parking spaces will be more convenient for them.”

CTSC is also residing and painting the second story of the casino building.
